

In response to this wake-up call, Congress passed the Fire Prevention and Control Act of 1974, which created the United States Fire Administration and its National Fire Academy. David A. Lucht of Ohio was appointed by President Ford to lead the new agency in 1975.

True to its tradition, Worcester Polytechnic Institute took the issue on, with Professor Robert W. Fitzgerald as the guiding intellect and catalyst. In 1979, WPI created the Center for Firesafety Studies as the first graduate degree program in fire protection engineering in the Nation. In the past quarter century with Professor Lucht as Director, the WPI fire safety program has become an international leader in fire protection engineering education, with graduates from 30 countries. Through its outstanding faculty, students and alumni, WPI has had an important role in making the world safer from fire.

I commend WPI on this impressive 25th Anniversary of the Center for Firesafety Studies and its graduate degree program in fire protection engineering. We are proud of them in Massachusetts, and the Nation is grateful for the difference they have made in fire safety for us all.●

25TH ANNIVERSARY OF C-SPAN

● Mr. LUGAR. Mr. President, I rise today to commemorate a signal anniversary that passed on Friday, March 19, 2004, the 25th anniversary of the Cable-Satellite Public Affairs Network, C-SPAN.

Founded in 1979, C-SPAN has rapidly grown from its humble beginnings televising the proceedings on the floor of the House of Representatives to a series of networks reaching millions of viewers daily. This service, which functions without any financial support of the Federal Government, provides our constituents with invaluable access to the day-to-day proceedings of both bodies of Congress, as well as other important mechanisms of our government. As a direct result, it is now easier than ever for our constituents to keep abreast of our deliberations and contribute well to the debates at hand.

I am also pleased to point out that these tremendous networks were founded by a fellow Hoosier, Brian Lamb. Through his work experiences on Capitol Hill, Brian realized the importance of bringing the business of the Federal Government into the homes of Americans nationwide and his indefatigable enthusiasm made this possible. In addition, he has shown great commitment to our home State of Indiana. Brian has also maintained strong ties with his alma mater, Purdue University, in West Lafayette, IN, where he established the C-SPAN archives. Over 80,000 hours of C-SPAN programming are immediately accessible through this database.

I am pleased to bring this important anniversary to the attention of my colleagues. I am thankful to C-SPAN for their efforts to spread the availability of our government, and I look forward to the continuing relationship, now in its 25th year, between C-SPAN and the U.S. Congress.●

CONGRATULATING PATRICIA SIMMONS

● Ms. MIKULSKI. Mr. President, I rise to honor Mrs. Patricia Simmons for her 34 years of dedicated service as head librarian at the National Naval Medical Center, and to congratulate her for earning the Meritorious Civilian Service Award. Mrs. Simmons is a lifelong civil servant. She has touched the lives of many in the military service with her love of literature and her commitment to service.

I ask that an article from the Journal, a publication of the Medical Center, be printed in the RECORD.

The article follows.

[From the Journal, Oct. 30, 2003]

END OF A CHAPTER

(By Ellen Maurer)

Patricia Simmons, head librarian at the National Naval Medical Center (NNMC), stamped her last book this month.

Retiring after 34 years of service at the hospital's general library, Simmons was honored in a ceremony Oct. 15 for not only her long-term commitment to the command, its staff and patients, but also for her love of literature.

"She loves that library and every book that makes it up," says Cat DeBinder, an NNMC staff member who has known Simmons for more than 25 years.

RAADM Donald Arthur, MC, Commander, NNMC, presented Simmons with the Meritorious Civilian Service Award during her retirement ceremony. The award citation detailed Simmons' significant contributions, which included an improved web cataloging data-base system and an internet cafe. Ironically, though, those who knew Simmons best said she wasn't really dependent on new technology.

"Pat never needed a computer . . . her unflappable data base was between her ears and it never crashed," says DeBinder. "She carried out her responsibilities with great love and true passion. She could tell you exactly where any book was; lead you correctly, without hesitation, to any subject and was a wizard with those little three-by-five index cards."

DeBinder admits, however, that Simmons' familiarity with the books she "guarded" for more than three decades did have its disadvantages—if only to those library patrons, like DeBinder herself, who occasionally missed their "due back" date.

"Once, I had to fess up to the unspeakable. I lost a book. It was an old paperback, printed in the late sixties or early seventies. I think the original price was 40 cents. The pages were yellowish-orange with age. The title was "No Bad Dogs." Pat had a very difficult time accepting the fact that I lost one of her books. I begged for mercy, forgiveness and I offered money. She said, 'Just keep trying to find the book.'"

Whimsically, DeBinder adds, "Pat . . . I'm still looking."●
